

MORNING APPEAL.

SATURDAY JULY 21, 1877

NOTES AND QUERIES.

Little drops of water and little grains of sand make the mighty ocean and the pleasant land. And so with a new and well directed town government. Little by little, line upon line and precept upon precept, here a culvert and there a crosswalk, here a sewer and there a drain, thus and by these and like small improvements quietly done, is the city made handsomer, more comfortable and in all respects tidier and more habitable. The Board of Trustees are doing nobly. Just now they are doing better than ever. Betake yourself, oh tax-payer, to the section of Second Street between Division and Minnesota Streets and see what a substantial wall master mason Logan is building in the aqueduct there. It is as substantial as that other ditch-wall on the north front of the passenger depot. At present he is putting in 150 feet of the wall. It is the wise purpose of the old flume rot away to replace them with wall. This is the correct way of doing things. What is the use of having a city unless you have a city as a city? Certainly our streets and crosswalks and gutters and sewerage have been improved a hundred per cent. since the Town Government was instituted. Not a little of all this good work is due to Doctor Butts, and we are very glad that he is still continued in the employment of the corporation as the constructor of streets and general supervisor of highways, byways and walks. We were accused yesterday of being participes criminis in the very disagreeable visitation of wind that came down upon our dusty streets and blew grit into every man's teeth and filled the hair of men and women and children with small particles of sand, soil and desiccated vegetable matter. It is a mistake. We are not guilty. We have tried in vain far too, too many years to raise the wind. We carry round a large, wholesome conscience void of offense, also a new white or pearl-colored plug-hat, presented by Mr. Frank Boskowitz, who, with great kindness, persists in furnishing our fevered brow with its outward adornments, at the justly celebrated one price clothing store, shirts made to order and your measure taken, also the very best of shaker flannel drawers, likewise linen ditto, and a very great profusion of elegant goods for summer wear, besides blankets, socks and boots and shoes of the most conscientious build and contrivance to say nothing of sleeve buttons and overalls, studs and undershirts, neckties and shoulder braces, trunks and collars in great variety and the loveliest hats and caps that ever fit mortal head, which the gift was very welcome and appropriate and makes us feel a sense of gratitude, all at the very lowest possible prices and of the very best material, some of it from the Mission woolen mills and all made to order and guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction and never cause a moment's pain and goods delivered wherever directed, pressed and ready to wear to the opera, church, or a wedding or funeral and never a spot or a wrinkle and in the light of style and fashion. Water is again infiltrating its sticky sediment on litigants, juries, lawyers and judges. Now our old friend John Gillson is hauled up before his Honor Judge Wright and held to answer why his head should not come off for and because of his offenses against the majesty of the court in the way of contempt in disregarding a certain injunction or restraint or discretionary decree or like parolous missive sent and directed to all mankind telling them what and how much water they may take, each his share, in such arithmetical and hydrostatic dolo and quantity as might seem fair and equitable—so many inches of so much aggregate water as it were. So John is defending himself and doing something to purge his person of contempt toward the court aforesaid. And here and now pending the final disposal of Mr. Gillson's case, we will let our readers know just how much, according to a certain California authority, a miners' inch of water is, says that authority: "A miners' inch is an opening one inch square, through a two inch plank with a head of water six inches above the center of the opening. One inch will pass 93 pounds of water in one minute, two inches will pass 196½ pounds in one minute; and where the opening measures 100 inches, each inch will pass 111 pounds per minute." There you have it. Now take your inches as they are allotted to you, fellow citizens of the barley fields and potato patches, and cease your quarreling. (It is such disinterested and beneficial advice as this that sustains the MORNING APPEAL through these depressing times and makes it a boon to every family circle.) We have sought with a sense of inner prayerfulness to feel an interest in the wood drive, but we are still lukewarm toward that subject and when yesterday Jones introduced the subject, and with it a gentleman from the summits of Alpine we involuntarily turned aside and bought a pound of Mason & Company's cream cheese, sold in quantities to suit purchasers, also all kinds of groceries and goods of the general assortment, staples and otherwise, including cranberries, china and glass-ware, pickles, soap, etc. etc., for particulars see small bills or, what's better, call yourself and examine either with or without a view to purchase. The reader has doubtless observed an interruption in the general current and tide of watermelons and like fruits of the vine and the huckster stand. We are authorized to state by several gentlemen whose names are afflicted with the itch at the outer end of the same to say that this vexment to the flow of fruit is due to the shed roasting process up yonder on the line of the C. P., and that now that the blockade is open the supply of figs, grapes, melons and other esculents and succulents will be resumed with more than a pristine vigor. The high wind of yesterday broke off many a tree limb. Especially with the tender cottonwoods and young locusts the damage was very considerable. As we write the sky is heavy with clouds and of a threatening aspect and the dry streets are blown clean, like the beach of the ocean.

BEAM PIXLEY'S HAT.

Yesterday Beam Pixley, our handsome County Assessor, was busy making preparations for his trip to Santa Cruz. His clothes were all right and so was his tooth-brush and his shaving kit and his paper collars and all his new neckties, also his bathing-suit and his numerous white vests. But it pestered him to know just how to get along with his new plug hat. He sighed and prayed for one of those leather handboxes that all well-regulated Englishmen travel with; and it was only toward nightfall that he finally secured a second-hand box of the pasteboard variety. Then, as the time for the going of the train drew nigh, he and Bob, his brother, and Hutch and the box (containing the precious hat) started for the depot. Bob invited the others into Jake Tobrimer's to get a cigar. Beam concluded to lay in enough for the voyage. While he was making his purchases, Hutch slyly opened the hat-box, extracted the unsuspecting plug, set it out of sight under Jake's corner, replaced the box cover, tied up the strings of it and finally saw it safely on board the train. So Beam, in the confidence of the trustful nature has gone away from his happy home, toting the ghastly mockery of an empty hat-box while his heartless brother and his deceitful companion, Hutch, are lying back waiting results and imagining to themselves poor Beam's look of despair when he discovers his despoilment. We know what he will do,—he'll swear; but he may just swear the nose off his face, it won't put that plug hat on his sorrow stricken brow!

FOR THE LAKE.

For the accommodation of those passengers who like to have an outside seat and who think that the driver's box of a jerk-water wagon is built to accommodate as many people as a horse-car, Doc Benton has placed upon the Glenbrook (Lake Tahoe) route, a brand new, open top three seated thorough brace wagon built in Sacramento and painted red. It is to the stage coach traveler what the open-seated observation cars of the Pacific Railroad are; and they accommodate eight adult passengers besides the driver. This in connection with the other stages and the Doctor's many facilities for dealing with the Lake travel make his part of the line very complete and altogether satisfactory.

PERSONAL.—Chamberlain, the rosy Boniface of Reno and Cap'n Bragg of that camp were in the city yesterday. Whenever a Renoite gets a little money, he wisely comes to the metropolis and has a good time rubbing up against enlightenment.

NEW MUSIC.—We are indebted to Mr. John P. Meder for a copy of a schottische arranged by him entitled "Don't Make a Noise" and dedicated to W. D. Mann. Will get somebody to play it for us and then say what we think of it.

Anybody knowing the whereabouts of James Matthews will do a Christian act by communicating with his sister, Miss Lizzie Lynn, at Silver City.

A MAN DEVoured BY A BEAR.—A shocking story of devouring by a bear comes to us from Frederickton Junction. An old man named Thomas Anderson, on Tuesday last, was chopping in Hardwood Ridge, but, not returning at the usual dinner hour, the people with whom he boarded felt some anxiety for his safety, as he was a feeble man. Night came but with it no tidings of the absent man. The following day a strict search was instituted, revealing the horrible fact that the man had been devoured by a bear. Bear's footprints were found on the ground, which was bespattered with gore, and near the foot of a tree were found the boots of the unfortunate man with part of the legs in them. Not far from this was found a portion of his head, dreadfully mutilated. From the footprints, plain in the soft soil, and the blood along the tracks, the horrible way in which the remains were torn, there is no doubt but the unfortunate old man became a prey to a bear. Anderson was one of the oldest settlers in the place and was unmarried.—Montreal Herald.

The Times speaks encouragingly of the present status and outlook at Silver City. It informs us as follows:

There is not an idle stamp in Silver City. It seems like old times when the sound of the falling stamps is heard in every part of the town. The Pioneer, Devil's Gate and Kelsey mills are all crushing Justice ore again, and there is an air of life and business in places that have seemed quite deserted for some weeks past. The Hope mill is running on Andreas ore. The Sherman is reducing for the Santiago mine, and the Bacon and Trench are on bonanza ore.

SAN FRANCISCO BOYS AT HARVARD.—Charles Jackson, John Davis and William Sawyer, graduates of the Boys' High School of San Francisco, attended the summer examination at Cambridge, Mass., and were all admitted to Harvard University without a condition. This is an excellent record—a standing that 80 per cent. of applicants fail to obtain. It reflects credit on San Francisco schools, and affords gratification to the parents of the young men.—S. F. Bulletin.

AN AGED FEMALE TRAMP.—The Reno Gazette of Wednesday evening relates the following:

Two tramps, yesterday, while en route from Wadsworth to Reno, discovered a Poland Jewess lying on the C. P. R. R. track about six miles west of Wadsworth. They soon ascertained that she had been traveling and had lain down on the track completely exhausted. She had a roll of blankets with her, and, as was afterwards found out, had traveled on foot from Sacramento. Her intentions were to make Chicago, but the warm weather proved too severe on the old woman and she sank down discouraged and exhausted and perhaps soon would have perished had she not been discovered. She is near 50 years of age and cannot speak one word of English. The tramp footed back to Wadsworth and informed the railroad authorities of the facts in the case. Superintendent Free at once sent an engine and coach to where she lay and had her brought to Wadsworth, where she was placed in charge of D. Allen, proprietor of the Wadsworth Hotel. It is very probable that the railroad company will take her East. Certainly when a woman of her age walks over 200 miles she is entitled to a free ride the remainder of her journey.

Of the doings of an insane Chinaman the Silver State of Wednesday says:

S. Reinhart, formerly of this State, now of San Francisco, who arrived here yesterday from Boise City, Idaho, informs us that he was in greater danger of being scalped by a crazy Chinaman on the trip than by the Indians. The Celestial, who, it appears, is a raving dangerous madman, took passage at Idaho for this place. On the stage he became ungovernable, and brandished a huge knife and revolver, with which he threatened to carve his fellow passengers, and had to be restrained from putting the threat into execution. He was left at Camp McDermitt to await the action of the authorities. It is company who brought this raving maniac seems to us just and reasonable that the stage into the county from Idaho should pay the expenses incurred in caring for him, unless he himself is provided with funds for that purpose.

BLOOD AND BURNS!—The New York Express is quoted as follows:

New York, July 20.—The Express, the organ of the Tammany ring, in its issue of last evening accuses Randall of the basest treachery to its party known in our history. The Express accuses him of being a Republican, while fraudulently obtaining Democratic votes in his district, and hopes he will not be re-elected speaker. The reasons the Express gives are that Randall practically defeated Tilden by his rulings in the house during the presidential count, and allowed Robeson to escape punishment by getting certain patronage in Philadelphia navy yards. The Express concludes: "The Democracy in various states may be able to hold its own successfully in the future, but if it seeks renewed national existence once more it will get rid of its Randall at once and forever."

From the rich antimony mines of Humboldt county we have the following information through the Silver State of July 18.

The Jones Brothers' team arrived here yesterday from the Southern part of the county with 20,000 pounds of antimony ore for shipment to San Francisco. It is from the antimony owned by Graves, Goodall and Healy, and is said to contain about an average of 71 per cent. metal. Persons who have seen the mines say there is an abundance of high grade ore in sight, but for some cause there is but little of it shipped. It is a little strange that in this enterprising age sufficient of this ore is not extracted to supply the demand in San Francisco.

A SAVAGE MURDER.—Under date of Worcester, Mass., July 19, we have the following:

At Auburn this morning Ellen Campbell, wife of Frank Campbell, was murdered by James Mulcahy. He broke each of the four limbs of his victim across his knee. She lived four hours, long enough to tell the terrible story and name the murderer. Mulcahy is under arrest.
